The holy Evangelists, Matthew, Mark, Luke, together with St. Paul write thus: etc. VI. P. What are the words of our Lord Jesus Christ concerning the office and power of the Keys? R. The Lord Jesus said to His disciples: He that heareth you, etc. For the sake of variety only one of the chief parts of the Catechism may be used, but then always with Luther s explanations. Two boys then come to the entrance to the chancel, somewhere near the font, so that they may be easily seen and heard by the congregation. They then ask and recite alternately one of the parts of the small catechism, together with Luther s explanation. The parts shall be taken in their order. On high Festivals the Questions of Rosinus or Bellinus shall be asked and answered in similar manner (Vid. Loehe s House, --School and Church-Book, Part 1.) When the boys have finished their part, the boys and girls shall antiphonally recite suitable hymns. The catechist then takes up a part of the catechism, and begins to catechise not only the children and those to be confirmed, but also the older and matured members of the congregation. Adults shall not be forbidden to ask questions, state doubts or whatever may trouble them, so that the minister may encourage or warn them as need may require. When the catechization has been completed, the minister, according to circumstances,...
